ACLS Course

The ACLS Provider Program is designed to teach and test knowledge of resuscitation protocol as outlined by the American Heart Association. This format is designed for the healthcare practitioner who is familiar with the ACLS material and is renewing the ACLS Provider status within a reasonable period of time. There is classroom review and discussion of AHA ACLS resuscitation guidelines and effective team management, but limited review of EKG rhythms and cardiac pharmacology. Advance registration ensures access to all necessary study materials as it is expected that the participant complete a self-assessment and review as necessary to be comfortable with the material prior to attendance.

Cindy E. White RN, MSN, CCRN
 Health Education Consultants
 Atlanta, GA

Cindy White graduated in 1978 with a Diploma in Nursing from Georgia Baptist Hospital School of Nursing, received a BSN in 1981 from Brenau College, and completed the MSN program at Georgia State University in 1983. She has over 35 years experience in all aspects of critical care, serving in clinical, administrative, and consultative roles.
